OUTDOOR SEASON IS

ONDECK

Personalize your backyard living space with the well-appointed accessories, accouterments and add-ons that combine all the comforts of home with all the serenity of escaping the everyday.

ACESSORIZING YOUR DECK IS AKIN TO ADDING THE FINISHING TOUCHES TO A MASTERPIECE PAINTING: IT'S ALL ABOUT SMALL DETAILS ELEVATING THE ENTIRE SCENE. A WELL-ACCESSORIZED DECK TRANSFORMS AN OUTDOOR SPACE INTO A COZY RETREAT, A VIBRANT ENTERTAINMENT HUB OR A TRANQUIL OASIS, ALL DEPENDING ON YOUR PREFERENCES.

Whether you're looking to create an inviting atmosphere for gatherings or a personal haven for relaxation, strategic accessorizing can make all the difference. We chatted with a few local experts on ways to unlock the full potential of your deck through thoughtful flourishes.

Define Your Style

Before diving into accessories, you'll want to establish the overall style or theme you want for your deck. Whether it's modern, rustic, coastal or eclectic, having a clear vision will guide your accessory choices and ensure coherence in the design. You should also:

Consider a Location: Just because you're at home doesn't mean you can't be anywhere else (in spirit, of course). You can base your patio area or deck on a favorite physical location. For example, if you love the beach, tropical prints and light blue accent colors could be a great way to recreate that vibe. Or, if you love the mountains, opt for a mountain-themed patio by incorporating a natural color palette and rustic furnishings.

Choose Colors You Love: A common way

BY KRISTEN JORGENSEN

OUTDOOR SEASON IS ON DECK

to transform a patio area is by picking colors you love. And, truthfully, this option can be simpler and less overwhelming to achieve: All you need to do is select your base colors and then consider the tones they blend well with.

Incorporate Your Hobbies: Since our hobbies can help create an escape from the mundane, incorporating them into your patio area can provide some direction for your theme. Whether you enjoy sailing, painting, playing music or anything else, you can tastefully add your passions to your patio décor.

Curve Appeal

Straight lines and right angles give way to curves and flowing shapes in custom deck designs. According to Joe Oakes from First State Building & Design, curved decks are a top trend for 2024.

“Adding a touch of elegance and sophistication to outdoor spaces, a curved deck can soften the overall look of your outdoor area and create a more inviting and fluid space,” he explains. “Whether it’s a simple curved edge or a more elaborate curved design, incorporating curves into your custom deck will make a bold statement and set your outdoor space apart from the rest.”

Maximizing With Multi-levels

In 2024, multi-level decks are gaining popularity as homeowners seek to maximize their outdoor space and create visual interest. Oakes elaborates: “By incorporating multiple levels into your deck design, you can create distinct areas for different activities. For example, one level can be dedicated to dining, while another can serve as a lounging area. Multi-level decks not only maximize the functionality of your outdoor space but also create a visually dynamic and engaging design.”

Another example of maximizing your space is creating an escape you’ll enjoy so much that it can serve a variety of purposes.

“We recently built a breakfast bar for a client that enjoys having breakfast outside in the late spring and summer. Ironically enough, it doubles as a great space for happy hour in the evening,” says Shawn Covely from Ameritech Services, LLC.

Bright Ideas

Extend the usability of your deck well into the evening with strategic lighting. From string lights and lanterns to built-in fixtures and torches, there are myriad options to illuminate your outdoor space. Consider both ambient lighting for overall brightness and task lighting for specific areas like dining or lounging.

“When adding lights to deck spaces, we typically add them to the deck stairs. It gives a subtle illumination and helps to make your deck safer at dusk and into the evening hours,” Covely notes, adding that builders also commonly install under-counter deck lighting. “If you have an outdoor grilling or cooking area, it’s a great consideration.”

Year-round Enjoyment

A covered deck is a trend that is here to stay. With unpredictable weather conditions, having a covered area on your deck allows you to enjoy your outdoor space year-round. Whether it’s a pergola, a classic covered roof or a fully enclosed structure, a covered deck provides shade, protection from the elements and an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors even during inclement weather. And in 2024, covered decks are becoming more versatile and aesthetically pleasing, with design options that can be seamlessly integrated with the overall deck design.

“We’ve seen an increase of requests from customers wanting a portion of their deck covered so they can extend the use of the space,” says Keith Fry from Amazing Decks. “The benefit of having an area covered not only protects you from the elements, it also allows the homeowner to add entertainment options like a fireplace or TV.”

Another design style that offers more usability is what builders refer to as “the all-seasons” deck, an aptly named design that extends its usage beyond just the spring and summer months.

“We’ve been seeing an increase in folks looking to create a four-season deck,” affirms Marcus Stoltzfus from Keystone Custom Decks. “It’s something that is open (without windows) but still available to use year-round. We like to suggest products like Phantom Screens and any type of heater. Utilizing products like that can increase the time you spend outdoors and yet still feel comfortable.”

The Rise of Grills

Grilling has always been a popular outdoor activity but it’s taking center stage in today’s custom deck designs as more and more homeowners opt for built-in grills that seamlessly blend into their current space. These grills not only are functional but also add a touch of sophistication to the outdoor space.

“A deck or patio is your extended home, an outdoor oasis that you can relax with the family, read a book or grill with friends” says Kristi Reading, a managing partner at

The Buxton Complex. “2024 is the year for backyard grilling. At Buxton, we’re celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Big Green Egg grill. From smoking, baking, grilling, searing and roasting, you can do all your cooking on one versatile grill. With seven different sizes, there is an option for every family, no matter the size, and it’s an excellent addition to any deck or patio.”

She adds that another popular option for jazzing up your backyard oasis is the Gozney Pizza Oven. “Imagine having a decadent pizza that makes your mouth water in just about 90 seconds—the Gozney Pizza Oven does just that. Grab your favorite dough, add some sauce, cheese and toppings of your choice, and you can make pizza for the whole neighborhood.”

Whether you’re a grilling enthusiast or simply enjoy cooking outdoors, incorporating a grill or pizza oven into your custom deck design is a trend that will elevate your deck experience.

The Finishing Touches

The foundation of deck accessorizing lies in the right furnishing, and designers recommend considering the size of your deck and how you intend to use the space.

Opt for durable, weather-resistant materials like teak, cedar or metal for longevity. Lounge chairs, sofas, dining sets and benches are popular furniture choices, offering both functionality and comfort. Outdoor rugs also introduce warmth and texture: They not only anchor the seating area, but also add visual interest while defining different deck zones. When choosing a rug, go with something that complements your furniture and withstands outdoor elements.

Lastly, greenery and planters bring nature closer when incorporated into your deck décor. Potted plants, hanging baskets or vertical gardens add a pop of color while creating a serene ambiance. Select native plants that thrive in your climate and don’t require excessive maintenance.

Accessorizing your deck is about more than just adding decorative elements: It’s about creating a harmonious outdoor oasis that reflects your style, enhances functionality, and fosters both relaxation and enjoyment. By carefully selecting furniture, incorporating greenery, lighting up the night and adding personal touches, you can transform your deck into a welcoming haven for both intimate moments and festive gatherings. So, unleash your creativity and let your deck shine! H&H

A CONTRACTOR FOR All Seasons

The Delaware-based A. W. Viohl Contracting delivers high-quality remodeling and maintenance every month of the year, which means it's always the right time to get started on the interior or exterior project of your dreams. by Madeleine Maccar

Anyone who loves what they do will tell you that they don't do it for the awards and accolades: They do it for the personal satisfaction, like knowing that they made a difference, finding the work rewarding and fostering strong relationships along the way.

"By the time a project's over, our clients have become part of our family," says Andrew Viohl of A. W. Viohl Contracting.

Viohl founded the company that bears his name in 2008 and, since then, has diligently amassed a team of in-house professionals whose dedication to clients and a job well-done mirror his own, and whose talents come together to make the Delaware-based contractor a truly versatile, trustworthy indoor and outdoor service that can do it all.

"The guys who work with me are good buddies, we've been working together for a long time. We're like a family and we're family-oriented," Viohl explains. "We know what we're doing, and we know how to work together. We've been doing this for 20-some years, so we've pretty much seen it all."

And while Viohl appreciates the talent on his team and knows they're absolute professionals who can navigate any challenges that may arise along the way, the awards are a nice confirmation that the A. W. Viohl team is on the right track. Having been recognized as one of House & Home magazine's Best of the Best is one of the contractor's most recent honors.

"We're out there working as hard as we can, so it means a lot to all of us," Viohl says.

But Viohl and his team are never content to rest on their laurels. Whether it's renovating a basement, creating an addition, updating a kitchen or bathroom, repairing a deck or boosting the longevity of a roof, they aim for nothing less than the best for the homeowners who trust them with their interior and exterior remodeling goals.

"We're not rushing from one project to the next," Viohl promises. "Our focus is on you and your home, including finishing the job right."

And there's never an offseason for the year-round operation, which means they're not only scheduling projects for the spring but also breaking ground on a few now. It often comes as a pleasant surprise for clients who are planning ahead for the warmer months—or aren't about to let winter stand in the way of their renovation projects.

"I don't think you should react to a customer by saying 'Why do you want to do a deck now?' and I don't like turning down work: Whatever job people need done, we'll do it regardless of season," Viohl says. "We're always doing projects, even in January and February. On the other hand, we also have calls now to get on the books to start work three months out. That gives us time to get the production going, to get all the permits we need so come March, April or May, we're ready to go for them."

With the pandemic entering its third year and people still spending more time at home than usual, Viohl says that renovations and updates are just as in-demand as ever.

"People have these old wood decks with the boards falling through and loose railings, or they've had the deck for 15, 20 years and they're just tired of the maintenance for staining and sanding, so they want them updated with materials to achieve a maintenance-free result," he explains. "You still have to clean it because it's going to get dirty, but it's not like you'll have to power-wash it every two years or watch out for splitting wood and handrails splintering."

Viohl adds that features like composite decking boards and vinyl railings will ultimately save homeowners some money. "You won't have that extra yearly fee or every two years because you're paying someone to stain it or pressure-wash it."

The pandemic's influence on the supply chain is still causing some lingering delays, affecting the immediate availability of some materials, like grout in certain colors, cabinetry options and particularly windows. "Some windows can still take up to three months to be delivered," Viohl notes. But he says that A. W. Viohl's clients are generally understanding and realize the delays are just a part of construction right now.

Viohl diligently encourages open lines of communication, both with the homeowner and among his team. It ensures everyone is on the same page at every stage of the project while managing clients' expectations—because it is, no matter the project, always about making sure a customer is completely satisfied.

"A lot of the jobs we do are for repeat customers, so they've been there and know what to expect," he says. "They know that they're getting the quality work they're paying for. It's an honor when they hire us for repeat work, and we want to make sure they'll call us for their next job." H&H

It’s What’s on the Outside That Counts

Customers looking to beautify their home’s exterior turn to DNA Roofing & Siding and Archadeck of Delaware and get results that leave a lasting impression. by Matt Cosentino

Everybody is familiar with the saying, “Don’t judge a book by its cover.”

The trusted professionals at DNA Roofing & Siding and Archadeck of Delaware believe the opposite is true—at least when it comes to your home.

Led by owners Dave Lyons and Tom Kulon—who have more than 50 years of combined experience in the industry—these two companies are helping homeowners all over the area improve their curb appeal in significant ways. Whether it’s installing a new roof, giving the home a facelift by changing the siding or creating a stunning outdoor living space, they can deliver high-quality exteriors to give their clients peace of mind.

It all starts with their commitment to treating each project like they were working on their own home. Quality workmanship, attention to detail and honesty and integrity are paramount for every job.

“Customer service is key,” Lyons says. “We need to have happy clients; that’s more important than profit. We take a lot of pride in making the customer’s house look better than when we got there.”

The knowledgeable staff at both companies includes master roofers and a master carpenter, and Lyons has the highest accreditations in roofing, siding and deck building from leading manufacturers like CertainTeed, James Hardie and Azek.

That expertise is especially important when it comes to the roof, which is clearly a crucial piece in a home’s exterior. It might not be a trendy home improvement, but a new roof installed by DNA increases energy efficiency and guards against weather damage.

“I think a lot of people don’t really treat the roof the way they should, because it’s a big expense and it’s not fun,” Lyons says. “Siding, decks and patios are wants, but a roof is a need. If your roof leaks, you have to get it fixed. It’s not optional.”

Lyons comes across many roofs, especially on newer homes, that were not installed properly and experience failure after several years. DNA can assess whether a repair is sensible or whether investing in a brand-new roof—including a four-star warranty from CertainTeed that covers everything—is the route to take.

“We go up on the roof, evaluate the situation and present options to the customer,” he says. “Sometimes they don’t really have an option. I can do the repair, but without a warranty and with the shingles not in great condition, I would not suggest wasting money on a repair because in two or three years they’re going to need a new roof anyway. We try to evaluate based on the life that is left in the roof and what it’s going to take to get the repair done.”

As for siding, DNA offers a number of options to transform the home, from the always-popular vinyl to fiber cement, stucco and wood. Lyons has also been working with James Hardie for years, regularly attends conferences for the company and is well informed on all of their products.

“A lot of companies offer the cheapest products and don’t offer any amenities,” he says. “But if you’re getting new siding to make your house look better, why would you not spend just a little more money to get something nicer that sets you apart from everybody else in the neighborhood? For example, you can do custom window framing and really make the windows pop. I feel like the siding is a much more of an aesthetic than the roof. You’re always going to walk up to the house and look at the siding.”

Outdoor living spaces continue to be popular, and Archadeck of Delaware is proficient at building decks, patios and screened-in porches. They will build any type of deck the customer desires—including pressure-treated wood or ipe—but recommend maintenance-free composite materials from Azek and TimberTech.

Having the backing of a national brand like Archadeck is also a benefit to clients.

“I just came back from an Archadeck conference in New Orleans where we discussed a lot of issues that come up for everybody,” Lyons says. “We have access to an engineering department; we have access to a drafting department. We can get a lot of things accomplished that some of the smaller companies can’t, and it allows us to offer better warranties.”

No matter which type of project homeowners are considering, they can rest assured they will receive personal attention as well as professionalism from DNA and Archadeck.

“What’s really different with us is that you will be able to talk to an owner,” Lyons says. “There are a lot of companies, especially the larger ones, where you will never talk to an owner. You’ll only talk to a professional salesman who is not trained as a roofer or siding mechanic or deck builder, who doesn’t know much about the products and has probably never installed a shingle in his life. We don’t have anybody who is just a salesman; everybody who works for us has done the work.” H&H

MODERN ENHANCEMENTS CAN TAILOR YOUR POOL WITH OPTIMAL DETAILS AND ADD-ONS, resulting in the perfect outdoor living space for the whole family.

Making a Splash

by Carly Murray

Locals are lucky enough to be just a drive away from the ocean, but they also may be yearning for something much closer to home—like going for a swim in their own personal backyard oasis. But cookie-cutter pools are a thing of the past, as homeowners and pool experts alike are opting for innovations in both design and functionality. Personalizing a pool and its surrounding area creates a one-of-a-kind gathering place for relaxation, for recreation and for entertaining.

While it may be too late to get started for this summer, planning for next can begin right away: After all, the more thought you can give your expectations of a new space, the better. Preparation yields the best in visuals and utility, and it is pertinent to follow property regulations that are often unique from one township to another.

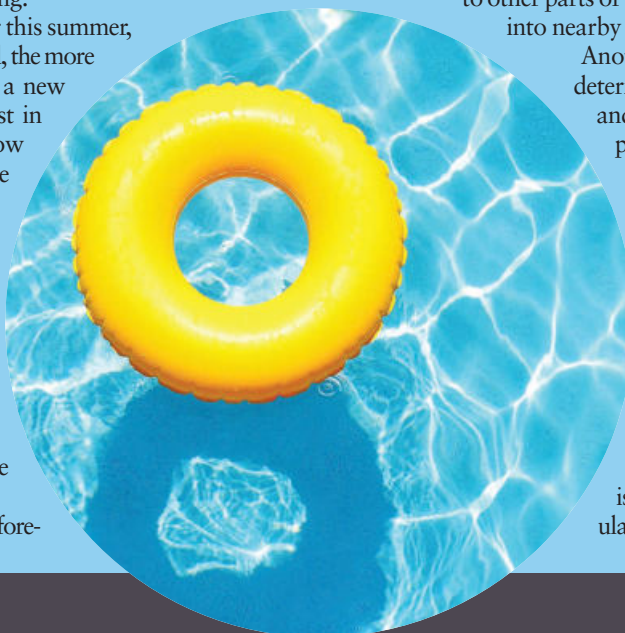

“Summer to fall is the best time for homeowners if they’re really considering a pool for the upcoming season to meet with their builder, get the contract, get that engineering done, have the builder submit permits so come springtime, we can start digging in as soon as we can,” says Joe Perchetti, who co-owns Ted’s Pools with his wife Carol. “I frankly plug this all the time: We want it done right the first time, every time.”

He adds that engineering helps prevent any foreseeable issues by taking into account the location of the pool from the home, different parts of the yard and neighbors’ properties. One such example is ensuring that any runoff from storms will not cause damage to other parts of the home and will not spill into nearby yards or basements.

Another part of planning is to determine a pool’s size, shape and material. While freeform pools provide more unique design options, rectangular pools provide the most swimming space. This fits the reemerging trend of incorporating right angles that line up with the home instead of curves, according to Bryan Hull, co-owner of Del Val Pools & Spas.

Yet, if a homeowner is feeling whimsical, irregular shapes are a possibility—

Perchetti has even seen a guitar-shaped pool. Smaller pools, or “spools,” are more adaptable to out-of-the-box shapes and sizes. The key for any project, of course, is attention to detail.

“[With] concrete pools, you can just draw a picture and we can put it in, it just goes by square footage. And a lot of people are putting sun shelves in where they can actually have an 8-foot area, or where they could put a lounge chair and only have a foot of water and then walk out into the pool from there,” explains Walter Beyer, president and owner of Stardust Pools.

Concrete, vinyl and fiberglass are three options that offer differences in durability and maintenance depending on lifestyle requirements. Concrete is perfect for placing pool chairs and tables as opposed to vinyl lining, which can tear from the friction. Similarly, gunite is a concrete mix blended from sand, cement and water with plenty of potential for personalization.

“A custom gunite pool is affordable and allows the most flexibility, so we start there: Go gunite, go custom. It’s what we are known for. From there, technology drives the newest changes each year. Customized lighting, heating and moving water options that can be controlled from your phone are the expected norm. Automation, imagination and creativity drive everything else," affirms Hull.

The latest technology does greatly enhance a pool, including the water itself. In addition to smartphone-controlled lights, colors and movement, salt generators to replace chlorine and heat pumps to extend the swimming season are trending upward.

Saltwater pools are also getting a lot of attention for being gentler on swimmers' skin—and their wallets, too.

"By putting a heater on, you're basically adding at least two months to your swimming season. This April was cold, but usually you could swim at the end of April [through] May, June, July, August and September," says Beyer. "Everybody's going with salt generators, it's just a money saver—just better swimming water and the savings on chlorine and shock that you'd have to buy. You don't need to buy any of that anymore."

The pool serves as the centerpiece of an outdoor living space, and the surrounding enhancement options are endless. Lounge areas on the deck can incorporate entertainment systems like speakers for music or TVs begging for an outdoor movie night. Outdoor kitchens, spas, restrooms and changing rooms can take a backyard to the next level, making it the new preferred place for pampering, hanging out and bringing loved ones together for cherished memories that ultimately become a lifestyle.

“Sun decks remain a very popular option, as do waterfalls and fountains. The sound of moving water is very soothing, and it’s good for your pool. Lighting comes in a variety of options that allow one to change color, color patterns, brightness, and create all kinds of special effects. Fire balls have become quite popular and are a unique juxtaposition of natural elements—fire and water,” says Hull.

He also points out that as the “core area of socialization” rather than simply a place to swim, pools can include seats in the water to accompany a swim-up bar accessible to those outside the pool. In addition to waterfalls and fountains, diving boards, aquatic climbing walls and slides add even more activities that appeal to any age, promoting both fun and exercise.

Coordinating all of these different components generates an atmosphere fitting homeowners’ preferences. Change the water’s color to complement different themes, like red, white and blue for Fourth of July, or change the pattern and speed of lights to accompany music for a DIY disco. Additionally, harmonizing the human-made features of an outdoor living space with the natural environment is a streamlined source of inspiration to decide which pieces look best and where they should be placed.

“We’re all earth-friendly now; we’re all very, very conscious about recycling. If I go to empty a pool, how is it going to affect wildlife and shrubbery downstream? So, we’re very conscious of Mother Nature and Mother Earth. With that, we’re seeing an increase in natural products, like a boulder waterfall feature,” affirms Perchetti. “So, not only do you have a very nice visual in front of you, but you have that audible effect that is just absolutely beautiful. Just sit there and close your eyes, and you’ll swear you’re at a mountain retreat right next to a lake with a waterfall.”

The No. 1 trend today above all else is summed up in one word: personalization. With the ability to both research and compare ideas from home improvement internet, television and print sources—as well as the range of experts available with whom to confer—one can witness their dream pool come to fruition. Afterward, there is no longer a search for something to do or for the perfect venue to host a party: The solution is right in your backyard. H&H

Just a Stone's

Debating a West Chester showroom earlier this year has helped Imperial Marble & Granite bring its dedicated customer service and exclusive products to even more Pennsylvania homeowners. by Madeleine Maccar

Since 2004, Imperial Marble & Granite has been working with clients from all over eastern Pennsylvania to design, fabricate and install uniquely stunning natural stone and quartz furnishings, from residential kitchens and bathrooms to retail establishments' reception spaces and dining areas.

But owner Albert Kzelian noticed a worrisome decline in clients from Exton, Malvern, King of Prussia, West Chester and other areas for whom Imperial's Essington location was just a little too far away.

So, just like with every job Imperial puts its name on, Kzelian came up with a solution that prioritizes his customers' needs: establishing a showroom closer to them.

"I said, 'OK, if you guys don't want to come to us, we'll come to you,'" he begins. "An opportunity came up at this location in West Chester and I could not resist. We built a 4,000-square-foot, beautiful showroom, and it's right on West Chester Pike."

The result was a wide-open, thoughtfully designed space. Open since April, that West Chester showroom is already a resoundingly well-received success.

One of the most striking features of the Imperial showroom is that there are no tiny samples trying to approximate the full extent of all the colors and natural beauty that exist in one piece of marble or granite. The entire slab is available for client scrutiny, which Kzelian says is crucial in helping them fully assess a stone they're considering for their home.

"The sample certainly doesn't justify what the slab looks like," he explains. "The slabs have so many variations that a sample that's just six or 12 inches isn't going to tell you about the entire piece because that piece has gold, gray, white, beige, all these different colors that a sample can't show you. So when the customer sees the whole entire piece, they're like, 'Oh my God, this is beautiful!' or 'Wow, this is not what I was expecting, it's too busy.'"

But the showroom, Kzelian points out, "is not just for countertops." It's also where you can find an array of ceramic and marble tile, vanities, faucets and sinks, knobs, kitchen cabinetry, lighting and even sound systems. Imperial also outsources appliances so "we can give everything to the customer looking for a complete kitchen."

"We have a variety of different things," Kzelian says. "A homeowner could come in and purchase pretty much everything for every room all at once."

The Imperial team stays on top of current trends and client-demographic preferences—Kzelian notes that customers under 40 tend to gravitate to the manmade quartz but those 40 and older still prefer more natural stone like granite and marble, while neutral colors are staging a comeback in demand across the board—that guide their offerings.

And for much of those in-stock options, Kzelian adds that Imperial is the only place in the state where they can be purchased. "There are specific products or colors that we're the exclusive dealers of in Pennsylvania. Nobody else carries them or has them."

While the West Chester showroom gives clients a chance to get an up-close, hands-on look at all the pieces Imperial has in stock, one of the biggest advantages to them is the cost savings that comes with making a purchase directly with Imperial.

But what really differentiates Imperial from the rest is the kind of dedicated, attentive client support that drove Kzelian to open up a showroom to better assist his customers in the first place.

"Customer service is No. 1, No. 2 is craftsmanship and No.3—which is the most important thing—is turnaround," he says. "From template to install, it's a 10-day turnaround. We have the technology and machinery to back us up. Everything is done by digital measurements and laser measurements, so that helps us make things more precise and accurate."

It is that determination to deliver high-quality, skilled and minimally intrusive work to clients that Kzelian believes will ensure that Imperial keeps growing so it can keep finding new ways to ensure all their clients' needs are met.

"We started out in 2004 with six employees and now have 43," says Kzelian. "Our second location is helping us to continue helping clients with a warehouse experience that has all the beautiful lights and design of a showroom." H&H
