What to know about... next generation faux plants

There's no denying the enjoyment that comes from having fresh flowers and plants in a home, but for some, the maintenance that comes along with it can be frustrating, especially when things don't survive. Faux plants may have been a faux-pas in years past, but thanks to new technology that embraces the imperfections of real plants and flowers, it's almost impossible to spot the fakes. The trend is now being embraced in home décor, with mainstream brands expanding their selections, including Balsam Hill, known for its faux Christmas trees and holiday décor. Here, the company offers some of the top reasons to use faux plants around your home, along with some examples that will have you doing a double-take.

Less Maintenance

No need to water, feed, repot or arrange for care when you take a vacation.

They stay fresh all year round

With proper care, they will look like the first day you bought them for years. Look for UV protected plants for outdoor use to ensure they don't fade.

Hypoallergenic

Great for people with allergies.

Non-Toxic to Pets

Live plants can be toxic to pets; artificial plants can eliminate that risk.

Safe from Infestation

Faux plants have few risks of parasites, pests or other foreign substances.

Stardust Pools & Spas

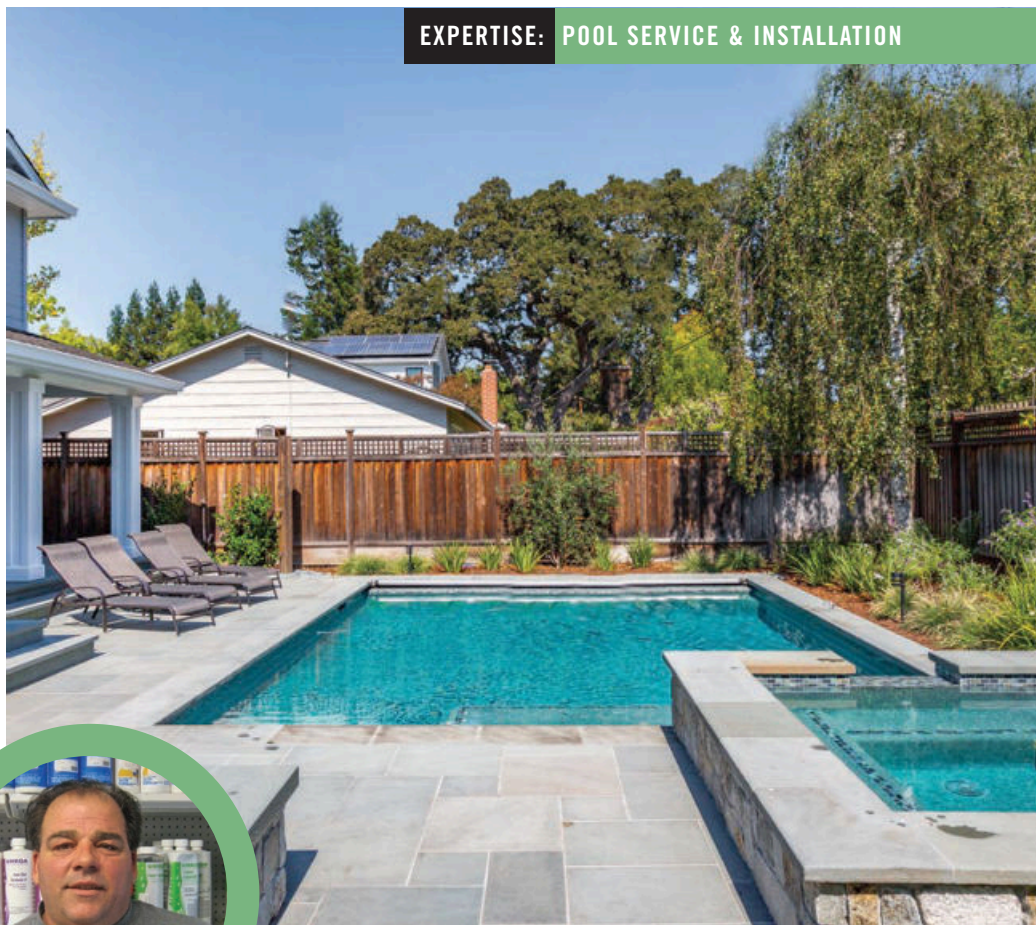

by John Anthony

With warmer temperatures here to stay, folks are beginning to envision those long summer days spent in the backyard enjoying their outdoor living space. And what better way to beat the heat than with a beautiful swimming pool? Walter Beyer, owner of Stardust Pools and Spas in East Brunswick, knows this all too well as his family-owned business has been building and servicing pools for both residential and commercial clients for nearly six decades.

Couple that level of experience with the fact that Stardust services the entire state of New Jersey along with all five boroughs in New York City, is open seven days a week, 365 days a year and it's easy to see why the company has become synonymous with quality and dependability. Their highly trained team of experts puts the customer first and foremost, no matter if they are breaking ground on new construction or updating an existing pool. We spoke with Beyer to find out why it is so important for Stardust to go the extra mile and how recent advancements are making it easier than ever to spend a carefree summer poolside.

As folks begin thinking about opening their pools in the next couple of months, is now the right time to start any upgrade or improvement projects?

If you think about it, May 27 is Memorial Day. Everyone wants to be in their pools, so it leaves you a small window. We open about 250 pools and we have people calling in January and February to get scheduled. Now's the time to be thinking about getting estimates on liner changes, or resurfacing projects—even if you're interested in a new pool.

What can you tell me about the advantages of choosing Fibre Tech surfacing?

With a concrete pool, you can do whatever you want; we make it as we draw the plan. Vinyl liner pools are limited to certain shapes. With concrete the customer will also get real tile, real coping; the pool will last forever. And with concrete pools we offer a lifetime warranty on the pool, but also a 25-year warranty on the Fibre Tech finish. Fibre Tech is the way to go. It keeps your pool five degrees warmer, it's a smooth finish and you save money on chemicals.

How popular are salt generated systems and what are the benefits?

Probably nine out of 10 pools that I sell or rehab ask for a salt generator. It's a no-brainer. Once you put it in, you never need chlorine or to shock ever again. With salt, it doesn't matter if it's rainy, sunny or 100 degrees out; once you set the generator, you will maintain that level. If you are going to have a party and have 50 people at your house, you can hit the sanitize button and shock your pool and create more chlorine throughout. The swimming experience is better, the water is silkier, and it saves money because you are not buying chlorine.

You have been in business for nearly 60 years, to what do you attribute that longevity?

It's a family-owned business and we spend a lot of time with people. We also service the whole state; a lot of companies will only cover the county they are in. We also only sell things in the store that we believe in, things we would have in our own pools. We have nearly 14,000 customers, some dating back 40 years and now their kids are buying pools from us. H&H

details

BY DANIEL SEAN KAYE

Big or small, every element of a bathroom remodel adds up to a look you'll love.

ONE THING IS FOR SURE: THERE IS MUCH TO CONSIDER WHEN IT'S TIME FOR A BATHROOM

REMODEL. From styles to tiles, you can spend a lot of time and energy making decisions. What homeowners need most is information, and this is where our experts can help.

BATHROOM BASICS

Approaching a bathroom remodel can be more challenging than any other room in the house, according to John Lang, owner of Lang's Kitchen & Bath, who suggests a good starting-off point is finding that one thing you really love in the space and then working from there. "This gives the designer a good understanding of a style the homeowner likes."

The bathroom should reflect the homeowner's aesthetics, says Mike Werner, sales manager of AAA Hellenic Marble. "Whether it's trends, looks or materials, make it right for the people using it. What makes it functional for them? What are their personal preferences?"

The best designer will marry product selections with the home's look, says Quinn Harbright, designer for Brindisi Builders. "Also, they will help to ensure that products are ordered in proper quantities and sizes."

Fran Isaacson, CKBR, owner of Inspiration Kitchen & Bath, says that it's "to the homeowner's advantage to work with a designer/contractor who can supply quality materials versus chased by someone who knows the correct sizes needed for the project.” It’s also crucial to know the quality of the tile. You can never tell that of the ones sold at big-box stores.

Experts in this industry often consider details that may be overlooked elsewhere. “Bathrooms have higher moisture than the rest of the house and having cabinetry that is built to withstand elements will look better and last longer,” says Steven Matteo, the co-owner and designer for Matteo Family Kitchens and Flooring. Cabinets using plywood built in the U.S. allow for better moisture control whereas imported cabinets that come by ship can have issues as they acclimate to our climate.

Product selection can also be influenced by which type of bathroom is being remodeled. “There’s a big difference between master and hall bathrooms,” explains David Cerami, CKBR, owner of HomeTech Renovations. “In the master you usually have a tub or shower to consider. But most people no longer want the large fiberglass or whirlpool tubs. They take up a huge space and people typically don’t have time for a long bath. In addition, they are often not plumbed right. People want large multifunction showers with body sprays, bench seating and music.”

DECIDING ON SPECIFICS

When it comes time to pick the various design elements in the bathroom, many homeowners get too hung up on what has the most staying power.

“There are no tried and true elements in bathrooms,” says Matteo, who has been doing slate looks and textured tiles with glass accents for years, but now is finding people want tile planks that look like wood for the floor and clean simple lines for shower walls. “As the DIY trends go, so do we. Farmhouse looks are what we are seeing. Thank you Chip and Joanna Gaines for that,” he says. Also, cabinet, tile and countertop manufacturers are trending to similar colors—gray tones, taupe and similar looks.

Many homeowners want bathrooms that pop and make a statement, says Sophia Amiano, design assistant at Amiano & Son Design-Build. “Large mirrors, different colored metal faucets, items purchased online. You never know the quality of items sold online until they arrive to the home, oftentimes broken or the faucets leak, etc. Cabinetry is best purchased by someone who knows the correct sizes needed for the project.”

It’s also crucial to know the quality of the tile. You can never tell that of the ones sold at big-box stores.

accent walls, etc., have all been popular options,” she says. “One thing you can never go wrong with is a neutral palette in a bathroom, such as whites, grays or very light blues.”

When redoing the space, consider reconfiguring. Maybe a larger shower or a clawfoot tub, and perhaps a vanity with natural stone such as marble or engineered quartz, Werner says. It’s good to use materials that seem to work with the look you want. “If you have a rustic ‘old farmhouse’ feel you wouldn’t use polished marble. You’d want a slate-look tile or soapstone,” says Werner. “Maybe look at stone accent walls in the shower or pebbles in the floor like a spa. Consider decorative accents, too. And think about seamless solid slab materials since they eliminate grout work and really enhance the project.”

Tile in wet areas is always popular versus solid surface materials such as acrylic or fiberglass, says Harbright. “It allows for a client to broaden the color spectrum of materials used in a bathroom, while still serving the more utilitarian task of a moisture barrier,” she says.

“White toilets, sinks and tubs are the best choice by far. White goes with everything,” says Isaacson. “Brushed nickel faucets are great options to hide water spots as much as possible. Darker fixtures may be harder to keep clean, depending on how the water is.” As for tile, she prefers uniform tiles in lighter tones in small spaces. “There are attractive porcelain tiles that look like marble that can be used in any design scenario, and accent tiles can always be added in for extra design interest,” she says.

“You want features consistent with your aesthetic values.

Color Seal the Grout on Ceramic, Porcelain, and Other Non-Porous Stone to make Grout Look Like New!

NATURAL STONE FEATURES are the type of accents that can define the look of a home, so keep yours looking new. Aldayna Stone Care offers professional service for all marble, granite, terrazzo, limestone, travertine, or other stone features.

NATURAL STONE is physically durable, but it's also porous and absorbent. This means that all stone features, especially in high-traffic rooms like the foyer, kitchen, bathroom or fireplace are susceptible to the stains, spills and damages of everyday life. When stone isn't absorbing discoloring impurities, it's being worn down by the cumulative effect of common occurrences like steady foot traffic and the use of harsh household cleaning products. Even a little pebble caught in a guest's shoe can unfortunately spread scratches across an entire floor!

THE GOOD NEWS is that no matter what your stone has been through, Aldayna Stone Care can quickly restore it to its natural beauty. Restoration starts with deep cleaning extraction to remove absorbed impurities. After that, scratches, dull spots and etches caused by chemicals or sharp objects are honed and polished back to their original shine. If a section of a surface is particularly damaged, Aldayna can fix it. Even cracked or chipped areas can be color matched and restored to a perfectly blended pre-damage condition. After a surface has been restored, Aldayna Stone Care can further treat it with sealants that protect from future damage.

*"They had great prices, and showed up on time and workers were wonderful to work with, very personable service.
Very detail oriented and I would highly recommend them."*

- Muffy B

"My husband and I were very pleased with Aldayna Stone Care & Maintenance Company. They refinished the marble tiles and countertops in our two bathrooms to our complete satisfaction. We would highly recommend Aldayna Stone Care & Maintenance to our family and friends. Thanks for your service."

Roseanne

"Aldayna Stone Care & Maintenance completed a gorgeous job polishing and sealing four floors and four bathrooms in my very large home in Warren. They were very careful when the honed, polished and sealed a room by putting up plastic to protect other parts of the house. The end result was marble that looked brand new again."

People have different tastes. With tile, there are varied formats, sizes, shapes. There are special glass panels that offer neat design details," says Cerami. "Some black finishes on faucets can look sharp in the right light, as do gold finishes. Free-standing tubs, vessel tubs are like pieces of art. There are one-piece, dual-flush toilets that are sleek, minimal."

There are many new products Amiano likes, including finishes for faucets such as different shades of gold, rose gold or newly released sleek black finishes. "I love the aged, weathered look that has been incorporated into some of the styles of tile," she says.

"People are using porcelain slabs, some as big as natural stone," says Werner. They are thin, easy to work with, and offer interesting looks. And unlike natural stone, they are not porous. "They are very durable," he says.

Lang singles out porcelain Dekton countertops which offer an array of different colors and "[are] almost bullet-proof." H&H

D. PANETTA Contracting, LLC

DONALD PANETTA, OWNER

Who founded the company and when?

I founded the company on April 29, 1999.

What made you want to start or be part of this business?

I wanted to open my own business because I was brought up in landscape/construction and love it. When my kids were little, they would love to jump on the backhoe with me and dig in the dirt. My boys went to school for landscape design. My son Ryan is my amazing 3D designer and my son Tanner is my lighting design and installation expert. My daughter Briana fills in temporarily in the office and in the field when she is off from her permanent job as a teacher in Mendham. My wife Tammy is my office manager and my soulmate.

What makes your family business unique?

What makes us unique is we all want the same thing, which is to make our customers happy from the start of their project with the 3D designs by Ryan and seeing the project before we build it. From working closely with the customer on all aspects of designs, material and location of each item to finishing it off with Tanner's lighting design and installation to bring it to life after dark, it is a magical experience to see a blank canvas and turn it into a backyard oasis for someone's family to enjoy for generations.

What are some challenges you've faced working with family members?

There are some challenges in the jobs we do, but we put our minds together and work through it. Our kids work great together. They even help each other out in their own private homes, creating their own backyard paradises!

What are the advantages and/or what do you find rewarding about working with family members?

It is very rewarding to be able to work with your family. We are very close and know that we are here for each other. I come from a very large Italian family and was brought up having Sunday dinners together and we try to keep that tradition going with my kids.

What is your favorite thing to do as a family together outside of work?

We like to vacation together and play golf.

PUGLIESE POOLS

TOM HEATH, OWNER

Who founded the company and when?

Tony Pugliese in 1955. By the 1950s, the post-war baby boom led Tony Pugliese to enhance the new homes he built with a custom swimming pool. Over the years he earned a reputation as the leading pool builder in New Jersey with innovations like the “natural look” pool and the Hydrodynamic Filtration System that is engineered as an easy-to-use filtering system.

What made you want to start or be part of this business?

In the '60s my family moved next door to the Pugliese family and I began working for Tony Pugliese in 1963. What began as a part-time teenage job became more enjoyable and fulfilling with increasing responsibility over the years. After a period of military service at Ford Leonard Wood in Missouri, I returned to Pugliese to manage construction services and sell the innovative Pugliese “natural look” pool. Upon the retirement of Tony Pugliese, I took over ownership and today continue to keep our pools the industry standard.

What makes your family business unique?

Tony Pugliese studied pool design, pool materials and construction methods, and instilled in us the concept of, “How would I engineer our swimming pool design as if I were building it for my own family?” I stay personally involved in every stage of every pool, every day. We listen and are available 24/7. Every pool built by Pugliese is built as though you are family.

What are the advantages and/or what do you find rewarding about working with family members?

Having grown up involved in the pool business, I always had an industry leader to learn from, and together we kept us on the cutting edge of pool design and construction techniques. Thomas Jr. has also been involved in all aspects of the business, from the numbers side to the field, from sales to service, and is today the company comptroller. Having three generations of family continuously involved in all aspects of the business has been the key to us being a New Jersey legend in custom swimming pools since 1955. For decades, whenever someone mentions Pugliese Pools, people “ooh” and “aah,” saying, “Oh, I know Pugliese, they built my parents’ pool.” ... “I grew up swimming in my friend’s Pugliese pool.” ... “Pugliese, they build the most beautiful pools.” ... “Pugliese has been around forever.” Being able to continue this tradition is what motivates us every day. H&H

Something for Everyone

Fencing that fits the bill for your home.

Fences serve such valuable functions on a property. Whether for protection, privacy or aesthetic appeal, fences come in all shapes and sizes to serve your needs. If you're in the market for a fence, then you might be wondering what your options are and how to choose what's right for you.

Paul Stein, owner of Elegant Fence, says that your specific needs as a homeowner will help start the process of finding the fence that is right for you. While some people choose to install a fence in order to keep their pets in their own yard, others are specifically looking for privacy from the neighbors, or perhaps blocking out a view they don't want to see. With properties that back up to a busy road or an adjacent park, homeowners might want to block out as much of the view and sound as possible.

Of course, for many, the need for a fence is related to a pool. Stein, who works with dozens of pool companies in four different states, says that adding a fence around a pool is not only the safe thing to do—it's a required mandate in order to fulfill local code.

Whatever the reasons may be that you need a fence, Stein says that discussing your needs with a fence professional will help get the ball rolling.

"This will help direct you to the type of fence that will work best for you," he adds. "A professional can help guide you with the process."

MATERIALS MATTER

In terms of the material used for your fence, there are many different choices on the market. However, there's no question that most homeowners are moving away from higher maintenance materials, like wood. Wood requires ongoing upkeep including sanding, painting or staining. These days, many are more interested in higher quality, longer lasting materials that are going to hold up for the long term without tons of upkeep. The fence experts we spoke with all agreed that homeowners are generally willing to pay a little more on the front end in order to ensure they have less work and better quality in the long run.

"More and more homeowners are moving to vinyl fences," says Steve Mullen, sales manager for FenceUSA. "Through the years, the products have become easier to install and maintain and have a great aesthetic look. On top of traditional colors, there are now many woodgrain-looking products such as the new Forrest Collection that offers a great upscale, woodgrain appearance. The technology used gives it a great look with no flaking and very low maintenance—while also lasting a long time."

John DiGianivittorio Jr., operations manager at American Discount Fence, agrees that vinyl is a very popular choice for its low maintenance quality.

"In terms of color, white, tan and khaki colors are easy to clean with a very light power wash or the use of a soft bristle brush with a mixture of dishwashing liquid and warm water," he explains.

While vinyl is undoubtedly popular, Stein says that he is getting a lot of interest in bronze aluminum fences. In fact, he says that's probably his No.1 seller right now—something that he attributes to the fact that it is "non-assuming."

"The material blends in with everyone's natural backyard instead of sticking out like an eyesore," Stein explains. "As we're seeing more natural backyards with boulders and patios that use earth tone pavers, I think people are becoming more interested in a fence that blends in. Another benefit of aluminum is that it's low maintenance."

Montco Fence & Superior Structures uses Jerith aluminum fencing, which comes with a lifetime warranty on the material. "Every component of Jerith aluminum fencing is 100 percent made in the USA, and was never melted down or re-fabricated like many of their competition companies around these days," says Kelsey Gilinger. "Their fencing is powder coated with their patented FencCoat Finish. This is an environmentally friendly powder coating to ensure it will never rust, peel, chap, blister, warp or corrode."

POPULAR ADDITIONS

There are a number of ways to add some additional interest to your fence in the form of accessories or "add-ons." Stein says that he's seeing a lot of interest in string lights in outdoor areas and some homeowners are connecting them to the fence with special attachments. This can really brighten up a space and add visual interest. Of course, there are also ways to incorporate lighting directly into the fence.

"The most popular add-ons are solar lights often used for the top of the gates and the corner posts,” says DiGianivittorio. “It’s important to make sure that the area you are going to use these solar caps on gets plenty of sunlight during the day in order to work properly. You will also need to change the rechargeable batteries at least one time per year as part of their normal maintenance.”

The hardware you choose for your fence will also have an impact on its overall look.

“There are many ways to add some ‘flair’ to your fence,” adds Mullen. “Hardware used on fences can be upgraded or you can use different latches. Adding lattice to the top portion of the fence is another way to give it a unique look.”

Stein agrees that solar caps are popular and says the nice thing about them is that they can be installed years down the road.

“We’re getting a lot of calls from homeowners looking to spice up their fence by adding solar caps or decorative ball caps to their existing fences,” Stein says. “These are easy additions that can be done at any time.”

In general, Stein says that he’s getting increased interest in “fence renovations” or “upgrades.”

“Upgrading an existing fence can change the entire look of a property,” Stein says. “People don’t realize just how much of an impact the fence has on the overall look of their space until they go for that upgrade. It’s a great aesthetic addition to a property that also goes a long way in boosting its value.”

While not exactly something with flair, gates are another element not to overlook, says Gilinger. She recommends that the gates homeowners will use most often be no more than 3 or 4 feet wide for a single gate. “I always like to mention to customers if you plan to use a lawn service in the future (or if you do currently), almost all of them will require a double gate to get their equipment in,” Gilinger says. “Most standard riding mowers have a 42-inch deck, so a single gate will be fine for that, but the zero-turn style mowers will need a much larger opening.”

A Polished & Pool

Home. The place where we all feel the most comfortable and safe from the daily grind.

Within our homes, there are typically places we feel especially comfortable, whether it's a man cave, den or cozy family living room.

But when the season's right, it's a swimming pool that truly helps to melt all the tension away.

A coveted amenity for many homeowners, swimming pools provide a private oasis right outside the back door, offering the ability to sit back and relax when life seems to be a little too crazy.

by Amanda Hamm Hengel

With the summer season quickly approaching, there's no time like the present for homeowners to take a look at what may need to be fixed or upgraded in and around their pools so that when the time is right, taking advantage of that little oasis is a pleasure, not a headache.

"Most homeowners seem to have an idea after they have closed their pool as to what needs the pool may have in the spring," says Mike McCool, general manager for Swim-Mor Pools. "Depending on the age and condition of the equipment and the pool, they may have been postponing some repairs for a few years. An especially harsh winter could speed up the need for some cosmetic repairs, or even a renovation."

Though postponing repairs may be the easiest—or what seems like the most fiscally sound—option at the time, as Dominic DiCesare, general manager for Blue Haven Pools & Spas by Calvitti, points out, sometimes that's not the best choice.

"Your pool is like any other home repair, a small issue will just continue to turn into a major one if left unresolved," he says.

DiCesare notes that one area that should be closely watched is the joint between the coping (the material near the edge of the pool) and the decking of the pool, along with the coping itself.

Sean Meyers, co-owner of DS Pool Service, agrees.

"In many cases, there is either no caulking applied to that joint at all, or it is deteriorating," he says. "If this joint is not properly caulked, water can work its way under the coping and behind the tile, which can cause damage to either or both."

Meyers says another item to keep an eye on is the pool cover.

"Over time these covers do deteriorate from the UV light and wear and tear, which can cause them to become brittle and no longer act as a safety cover," he notes. "Spring is a good time to inquire about a new cover as some cover manufacturers have spring promotions if ordered by a certain date."

Tom Heath, president of Pugliese Pools, notes that it is important to keep in mind that everything has a life to it, and eventually parts are going to need to be replaced.

"On average, a heater will need to be replaced every 10 years," he says. "A pump will be maybe a little less than 10 years. It all depends on how much use these things get. Heaters, pumps, filters, all the mechanical parts—they're not going to last forever."

Heath adds that even if these pieces were in working order before winterization, there can be surprises when the pool is opened for the season.

"Rodents can make their homes in heaters," he says. "They can bring foreign stuff in there and that will need to be cleaned out."

A Polished Pool

Repairs and general maintenance aside, springtime is also a good time to think about any upgrades that may be made to the pool or its general vicinity.

One great upgrade is the addition of a robotic pool cleaner, says Walt Beyer, president of Stardust Pools.

"[The robot] will save hours of weekly cleaning and brushing your pool," he says. "Drop it in your pool Friday night and in a few hours your pool is clean and ready for weekend entertaining."

This will also help with pool up-keep through the season, Beyer says.

"Pool owners should strive to keep up with the weekly maintenance of their pool, chemicals, water balance and cleaning their filters," he notes. "It is much easier to keep your pool clean and in balance than to try to correct water problems after things go wrong."

Another upgrade to consider is a variable speed pump, Meyers says.

"A variable speed pump can save a homeowner hundreds of dollars each season while also improving the efficiency of the pool overall," he says. "By running a pump at a lower RPM, but for a general manager for Blue Haven Pools & Spas by Calvitti longer period of time each day, the pool is filtered more efficiently which leads to clearer and more chemically balanced water. These variable speeds are also much quieter than standard speed pumps.”

Meyers adds some pump manufacturers offer rebates on these types of pumps and most electrical suppliers are offering rebates to the consumer when they replace a standard pump with one.

While it may seem like a huge undertaking, Heath suggests that some homeowners may even consider replacing their pools this spring instead of simply making upgrades.

"[Replacing the pool] allows the homeowner to decide the pool shape, location and size, and they can put in whatever thrills they want, with a lifetime warranty," he says. "If I'm renovating a 30-plus-year-old pool, I can't guarantee it. And if the homeowner thinks they're going to be in the home for 10 years or more, they may as well bite the bullet and put in the pool they really want."

What is especially exciting about designing new pools and upgrading older ones these days is that there is so much more available and so many more choices than there ever have been, says Bryan Hull, partner at Del Val Pools & Spas.

"With older concrete pools, people are renovating and refacing with new coping, new tile ideas," he says. "The top and the whole water line is a lot more exquisite than it used to be. They're plastering in a deeper, dark blue, and you can even get mosaics at the bottom of the pool now. You can put a picture of a shark, or turtles or even your favorite sports team."

Hull says well-lit pools with color changing lights are also a huge draw for homeowners these days, but by and large the most popular option is a salt water system.

"Whether it's renovation or new construction, salt water is still the biggest attraction," he says. "These systems have come so far with the ease and inexpensive operating cost.

"It's really the best option whether it's an inground, above ground or semi inground," Hull continues. "When it comes to conversion [from chlorine to salt], it's very easy. It's simple and probably takes about an hour and a half to convert to salt water."

Whatever projects homeowners may be looking into this spring, if there is anything McCool would like to express upon homeowners, it's to start early when it comes to pool maintenance and repairs, upgrades and renovations.

"It has been a very busy winter with people planning for spring," he says. "If you have any kind of need to have everything done early, you need to speak to your pool company right away to get in their queue." H&H

Spring is the Perfect Time to Organize your Cluttered Garage

When it comes to cleaning, most people focus on kitchens, bathrooms, closets and basements, overlooking a key component of the home: the garage. It's the primary entry for the majority of homeowners, family and friends. Yet, it's often a catch-all for bikes, sports gear, tools and more. With so much foot traffic, clutter looks unsightly, and creates safety concerns and stress as well. A well-organized garage improves access to your home, and you wind up with more efficient storage space than you realized you had while making this year's cleaning easier than ever.

Les Hutton of GarageTek of North and Central New Jersey says a garage makeover can make a big difference. "Removing clutter is at the top of everyone's list, and the garage is a great place to start," he says.

"Homeowners need to easily locate their seasonal items during this transitional time, when summer items are still being used, but also to get fall gear ready—rakes, leaf blowers, etc., as well as golf and fishing gear. Kids will also need to be able to reach their toys and easily put them away after using them."

GarageTek can help you take a fresh look at your garage and make it truly functional. "As part of our garage makeover services, we will help customers assess their space, figure out what should be kept and what they should get rid of," says Hutton. "Once we know what items are staying, we present and deliver cost-effective organization and storage solutions."

GarageTek offers flexible systems of hooks, shelving, cabinets and fixtures to get used items—like bikes, beach equipment and tools—up and out of the way. Special hooks, racks and baskets are available for everything from surf boards to scooters to golf clubs. Hutton says, "Imagine getting ready for practice and going to a dedicated spot in the garage where all of the gear is safely stowed. It removes stress and gets you out the door in a better mood and on time."

He adds that an organized garage is much safer for kids, who are often injured when they trip over something left on the floor. "We help make the garage a safer place for the entire family to use."

And homeowners don't have to do the whole garage at once. You can set small goals, like organizing one wall at a time, or getting the car(s) to fit in. "We have an endless choice of designs and solutions that can address your needs and fulfill your goals throughout the year," Hutton says.

Homes with a clean, organized garage create a real wow factor for visitors—and potential buyers—who see this unexpectedly finished, clutter-free space as a positive reflection on the entire property. GarageTek of N&CNJ recently earned the coveted Angie's List Super Service Award, reflecting exemplary service to members. "We are extremely grateful to our thousands of satisfied customers, including many Angie's List members, for their continued support over the past 13 years," says Hutton. H&H
